Special Message

MAYOR JOY BELMONTE

11th City Mayor, Quezon City Government

Greetings to everyone!

It is with great pride that I present to you the Quezon City Migrants Resource Center (QCMRC) Handbook, a valuable guide for QCitizen migrant workers and their families. This handbook represents our unwavering commitment to supporting Quezon City's migrant workers and their families. It provides significant information and assistance that empowers them, strengthens family relationships, and keeps them connected to our community, "dahil sa QC, walang maiiwan."

The Quezon City Migrants Resource Center (QCMRC) was officially established under City Ordinance SP-2500, S-2016, which was passed during my time as Vice Mayor. Now, as Mayor of Quezon City, I continue to prioritize the well-being of our Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) and their families, ensuring that their efforts and contributions are acknowledged and supported.

There are currently over 180,000 documented migrant workers from Quezon City who contribute not only to their families but also to our city's growth and progress. The QCMRC provides a range of programs and services, including pre-migration orientation seminars, reintegration assistance, psychosocial support, financial literacy training, and program-specific for children of migrant workers. These programs aim to empower our migrant workers, ensure their protection, and equip them with the necessary information needed to succeed in their chosen paths.

We recognize that the families left behind by migrant workers also face unique challenges. That is why the Quezon City Government remains committed to extending support through family-focused programs, such as the Smart Child e-Habilin Program, ensuring that children and spouses of migrant workers receive the care, support, and guidance they need.

Through the QCMRC, we aim to provide gender-responsive, migrant-centered services that address the complex challenges faced by our QCitizens abroad and their families here in Quezon City. We stand firm in our mission to create a society in which migration is no longer a necessity, but rather a choice made with dignity and informed decision-making of the whole family.

We hope this handbook will serve as a reliable guide to the many programs, services, and initiatives available through the QCMRC.

I salute everyone who is working to make Quezon City more inclusive, supportive, and resilient, as we strive to build a brighter future for all our citizens — wherever in the world they may be.

Your Journey, Our Mission.

HON. MA. JOSEFINA G. BELMONTE
CITY MAYOR

Special Message

MR. ROGELIO L. REYES, MCD
PESO Manager, Quezon City Government

Greetings from Quezon City Public Employment Service Office!

In pursuit of providing holistic services for QC Citizens both locals and Filipino migrant workers, the QC PESO through Ordinance No. SP-2657, Series 2017 (PESO rationalization) opted to function through different divisions. In particular, the Migration Services Division caters to migrant workers and their families.

The Migrant Resource Center, the first-ever one-stop-shop facility for migrant workers built in the National Capitol Region (NCR), was created and established by virtue of the city ordinance SP 2500, s-2016.

Now we have created a handbook to complement our service and assistance and provide guidelines to QCitizen migrant workers and their families. Inclined with this principle, this handbook is crafted in order to provide directive guidance specially for OFWs and their families who not only seek help for their concerns and queries, but also OFWs who seek to contribute to the city's development. As the PESO Manager, I am confident that this handbook will serve as a valuable resource for our migrant workers and their families. Through this initiative, we aim to address critical issues such as unemployment, human trafficking, and domestic abuse, while also creating opportunities for local employment and entrepreneurship that will not only support their well-being but also contribute to the growth of Quezon City's local economy.

At PESO, we are committed to respond to the needs of every Quezon City resident through our comprehensive programs and services. Our unwavering dedication to the welfare of our citizens reflects our ongoing mission to improve the lives of individuals and families.

Special Message

MS. DJOHANNA DELIA G. RAVELO, MPA

Head of Migration Services Division, QC PESO

At the Migration Services Division, we are committed to ensuring that every step of the migrant journey is supported—from departure to reintegration. That is why, it is with great pride that we present this handbook that we have created to guide and support our Overseas Filipino Workers and their families.

The journey of our QCitizen migrants is not theirs alone; it is our shared mission. We understand the sacrifices, challenges, and aspirations that our OFWs carry with them, and it is our duty to provide the resources, information, and assistance they need to thrive and remain connected to their families and community back home.

This handbook serves as a bridge to the services and support that will ease the journey of our migrant workers and their families. Through this, we reaffirm our commitment to migrant families, because their journey is a shared mission that we carry together as a city.

In Quezon City, we understand that empowering migrant families is key to our collective progress. This handbook connects them to essential resources that will support their well-being, and this reflects our dedication to strengthening an inclusive and resilient city.

INTRODUCTION

History of Migration In QC: Emulating the humanitarian legacy of President Manuel Quezon during Holocaust

In the late 1930s, President Manuel Quezon gave refuge to over 1,300 Jewish people who fled from their homeland to survive the holocaust. Quezon provided not only a shelter but a home for many.

He then issued Proclamation No. 173 or the 'Open Door Policy' which encouraged all Filipinos to welcome refugees and aid them when necessary. However, the rescue was postponed during the Japanese invasion in December of 1941, forcing Quezon to be exiled in Washington DC, America.

The legacy of the heroic president who fought for life, symbolized hope amid of adversity as a recognition of gratitude by the survivor and the Jews Government. In 1957 the Philippines and Israel formed a diplomatic relationship formally known as the "Treaty of Friendship".

Today, Quezon City Government-Public Employment and Service Office (PESO) is deeply rooted with the mission of providing service wholeheartedly. It serves as a beacon of hope for its citizens most specially for migrant workers. As such, the office firmly adhered to the humanitarian advocacy of Quezon to protect and elevate the lives of the Filipino people around the globe.
